

Performance assessment for the iPhone. Manage groups. Create rubrics. Assess performance. Track improvement. Share data. Wherever you are.

- Simplicity. Teachers, trainers, and coaches can create GradePad ratings for performance assessment easily and quickly and use them wherever they are.
- Flexibility. GradePads with criteria and scales can be created for many disciplines to assess performance, presentation, behaviors, and outcomes.
- Assessment. Do assessments by GradePad or Group. With a GradePad, you can quickly apply a score to each member of a group. With a Group open, you can easily assess each individual with a different GradePad.
- Tracking. GradePad automatically saves each assessment of every group member. You can review and revise past ratings right on your iPhone or iTouch.
- Sharing. Share your assessment data by sending it your email account where you can save the data for further analysis, reporting, and charting.

With GradePad, assess performance wherever it occurs: group project in a classroom, science fair exhibit, performance on stage, behavior on a playground, or sportsmanship on the field. GradePad comes with 5 rubrics to assess performance. Edit those or create any new GradePads you need – using your own criteria. Track assessments over time and email your assessment data to any address for analysis, reporting, and sharing.

Manage Groups

Create as many groups as you need. Individuals share the same performance requirements and all the GradePads you use or create.

Add an unlimited number of people to your groups.

Create GradePads

Use, edit, or create new assessment GradePads with four criteria and definitions and a scale of assessments.

Do Assessments

A simple interface lets you quickly and easily assess any individual's performance on any GradePad. Every assessment is automatically saved with your scores and the date and time, along with any comments you added.

Track Performance

Review any individual's past GradePad assessments.

Adjust criteria rating for final scores.

Send your GradePad assessment data to your email account.
